THIS LITTLE BIBLIOGRAPHY IS AFFECTIONATELY AND GRATEFULLY INSCRIBED

P R E F A C E.

A LARGE proportion of this little Bibliography is necessarily occupied with the enumeration of Thackeray's contributions to Fraser's Magazine and to Punch, both ranging over periods of ten years. As many of these are not reprinted in any edition of his Collected Works, I have endeavoured to make the list as complete as possible ; and in the case of the contributions to Fraser, I have every reason to believe I have succeeded. But in the case of Punch (where, indeed, one is almost overwhelmed with the embarras de richesses), I have preferred rather to omit some items of minor interest than to run the risk of including anything doubtful. For although the well-known and familiar signature of the spectacles at once identifies any illustration as Thackeray's, it does not necessarily follow that the letter-press accompanying it was always his. But I have included everything that is reprinted in his Collected Works, and much that is not reprinted there.

As in my previous Bibliographies every article, without exception, has been described with the actual book, pamphlet, magazine, or newspaper lying before me.

It should be added that the list of "Thackerayana" at the end makes no pretensions to be exhaustive.

I shall be happy to acknowledge and shall be grateful for any suggestions or additions that correspondents may obligingly communicate to me.

RICHARD HERNE SHEPHERD.

THE
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THACKERAY.

1

THE SNOB : A Literary and Scientific Journal, not “conducted by Members of the University.” Cambridge : Published by W. H. Smith, Rose-crescent. 1829, 12mo, pp. 64.

Consisting of eleven weekly numbers printed on paper of several different colours, commencing Thursday, April 9, and ending Thursday, June 18, 1829.

Among the contributions probably to be attributed to Thackeray are the mock-poem on Timbuctoo, and the continuation of Mrs. Ramsbottom’s Letters.

2

Contributions in verse and prose to The National Standard and Journal of Literature, Science, Music, Theatricals and the Fine Arts. London : Thomas Hurst, 65, St. Paul’s Churchyard. 1833, 4to.

The contributions distinctly traceable as Thackeray’s are as follows :—

Vol. i.

- No. 18, May 4, 1833, p. 273. Louis Philippe (Verses and Sketch).
- No. 19, May 11, 1833, p. 289. Mr. Braham, [Mock] "Sonnet by W. Wordsworth," and Sketch.
- No. 20, May 18, 1833, p. 305. N. M. Rothschild, Esq. (Verses and Sketch).
- No. 22, June 1, 1833, p. 345. A. Bunn (Verses and Sketch).
- No. 23, June 8, 1833, p. 362. Love in Fetters ; a Tottenham-court-road Ditty (with Sketch).
- No. 24, June 15, 1833, pp. 380-381. Covent Garden (with Sketch).

FLORE ET ZEPHYR. BALLET MYTHOLOGIQUE PAR THÉOPHILE WAGSTAFF. — London: Published March 1st, 1836, by J. Mitchell, Library, 33, Old Bond-street. A Paris, chez Rittner & Goupil, Boulevard Montmartre. Folio.

Eight plates, lithographed by Edward Morton, of which the following is the letterpress description :

1. La Danse fait ses offrandes sur l'autel de l'Harmonie.
2. Jeux Innocens de Zephyr et Flore.
3. Flore déplore l'absence de Zephyr.
4. Dans un pas-seul il exprime son extrême desespoir.
5. Triste et abattu, les séductions des Nymphes le tentent en vain.
6. Réconciliation de Flore et Zephyr.
7. La Retraite de Flore.
8. Les Délassements de Zephyr ; and vignette on wrapper-title.

* With this number Thackeray's contributions appear to have ceased, though the Journal itself continued to exist until February 1, 1834, completing a second volume and running on to a fragment (eighty pages) of a third.

The Preface is dated "London, July 1, 1840."

THE STUDENT'S QUARTER, or Paris Five-and-Thirty Years Since, by the late William Makepeace Thackeray. Not included in his Collected Writings. With original coloured illustrations. London : John Camden Hotten, Piccadilly (n.d.), pp. 202.

The eight chapters or letters of which this volume is composed were written by Thackeray during his residence in Paris in the year 1839. It is stated by the editor, who was also the publisher of the volume, that "they were originally addressed to a friend, the editor of a foreign journal, in whose publication they first appeared."

Of the eight Letters seven were reprinted in substance in the Paris Sketch-Book in 1840, with here and there a slight omission or alteration, hardly of sufficient interest to note. The only letter, therefore, "not included in Thackeray's 'Collected Writings' is that which stands as the fifth, and is entitled 'More Aspects of Paris Life'" (pp. 113-132), and dated August 31.

The signature "T. T.," which is appended by the author to all of these letters but the eighth and last, had already been used by him three years previously in a series of letters of no permanent interest or value written by him from Paris as the correspondent of the Constitutional, a journal conducted by his stepfather. The last letter is signed "M. A. T.," which may be supposed to stand for "Michael Angelo Titmarsh," the author's favourite nom-de-plume for many years.

The name of the "foreign journal" in which these letters appeared was not furnished by the editor ; but he seems to hint in his memorial volume, "Thackeray the Humourist and the Man of Letters," that it was an American journal.

It should be added that the coloured illustrations which figure in this volume were not executed to accompany the letter-press, even if, as seems probable, they are rightly attributed to Thackeray's pencil.

in Prose and Verse of CHARLES DICKENS, from 1834 to 1880, including his Letters and Speeches.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“Another of the works of reference, so invaluable to the student and bookworm. The work bears evidence of the careful manner in which it has been compiled, and must be a necessary item in future of all admirers of our greatest modern English humourist.”—The Pen.

“It will be of especial interest and value to at least three important classes—the admiring readers of the great fictionist: the students who are anxious to trace the unfoldings of his genius and the growth of his power; and the bibliographer proper or collector.”—The Scotsman.

“A most laboriously compiled and minute bibliography.”—Bookseller.

“Complete and in many respects curious.”—Daily News.

“This little work will be prized by all who admire the genius of Dickens, and desire to be comprehensively acquainted with his books, magazine contributions, speeches and letters.”—Literary World.

“Singulary exhaustive and lucidly arranged.”—Illustrated London News.
